

Casey Corbin

Even in a pandemic Casey has managed to keep his career moving forward. In January of 2021 he appeared in the Just For Laughs produced Humour Resources with Jon Dore. Also in the episode were the Lucas Brothers and Nikki Glaser. The show aired nationwide on CBC. Now it can be seen streaming on CBC Gem. With 4 comedy albums on Spotify, Casey had a breakthrough year as a Spotify Artist. Here are some of his Spotify numbers: Listeners: 108.5k, Streams: 360.3k, Hours: 16.2k, and was heard in 88 countries.

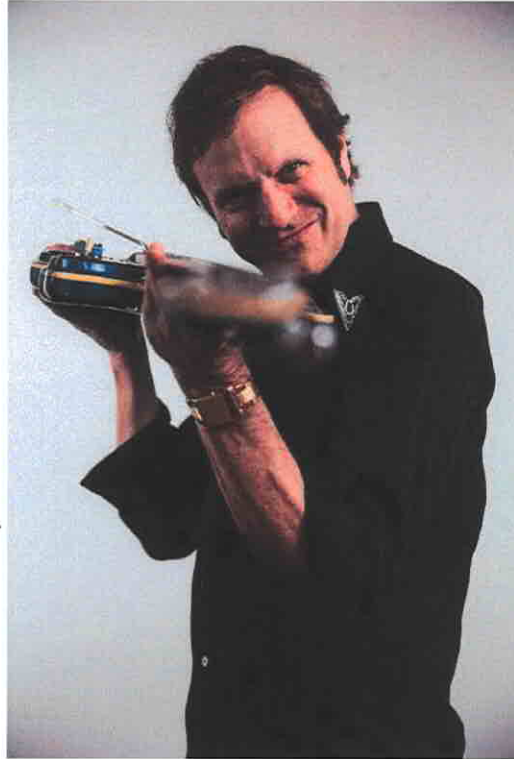

Pre pandemic (2017-2019) The last few years have been fantastic for Casey Corbin. With highlights that include performing to a sold out National Arts Centre in Ottawa, Canada opening for Mr. D himself, Gerry Dee. Having a 9 show run at Just For Laughs Toronto festival, JFL 42. This included 4 sold out shows at the Royal Theatre sharing the stage with friend Rory Scovel and one time with a surprise special guest, Amy Schumer. Working with his comedy hero, the late great Norm MacDonald for 6 sold out shows in Calgary. Opening for Canadian comedy legend Ron James. As well as competing in the 8th annual Brantford Comedy Festival and winning it's grand prize of $10,000. If that wasn't enough, he launched a wrestling/ comedy podcast with Never Sleeps Network that airs weekly on iTunes/Spotify titled Talk'N Wrestling.

Before 2017 Casey Corbin had accomplished plenty. An hour special on the Comedy Network, The Comedy Network Presents: Casey Corbin Comedy Now, Uncensored. Along with that is a half hour special that aired on CTV called Comedy Now. He's also been seen on CBC's Halifax ComedyFest and even Comedy At Club 54. (but that was a long time ago)

He's a regular on SiriusXM Just For Laughs Canada who has also been heard on CBC One on Laugh Out Loud. Has performed at the 25th Anniversary of Just For Laughs and has also toured with them as well in support of Harland Williams on his 2005 Tasty Treats Tour.

"This stand-up comic is a wickedly smart comic who uses his smarts to create original material and surprising punchlines out of what are usually mundane topics. If you like different and intelligent stand-up Casey Corbin is a solid bet." -The Serious Comedy Site

George Westerholm

George is a Gemini, Canadian Screen Award and Canadian Comedy Award winning writer/producer/director/musician/comedian who has worked on numerous television shows including The Rick Mercer Report, and This Hour has 22 Minutes.

Some of the many performers he has written for includes Howie Mandel, Jason Priestly, Jane Krakowski, Gordon Pinsent, Andrea Martin, Weird Al Yankovic, Tom Green, Mark McKinney, Sean Cullen, and Shannon Tweed.

As a performer George has toured across Canada, into the US and Britain. His show 'Unscheduled Stopover' was nominated for 'Pick of the Fringe' at the Edinburg Fringe Festival.

You can also read a little about his life as a comic in the book "I Killed: True Stories of the Road from America's Top Comics"

His comedy music album Adult Male is available through the usual streaming services.

Check out his YouTube channel Canadian Satire for his latest videos

<https://www.youtube.com/@CanadianSatire>

Pete Johansson

Pete Johansson has earned the title of global headlining comic with a relentless non-stop schedule taking him to every corner of the globe. His unique socially progressive, intellectually challenging, yet accessible and silly comedy has garnered a devoted following of fans looking for laughs with something more. This profile was recently bolstered with his very well reviewed (chortle.co.uk) first comedy special 'You might also enjoy...Pete Johansson' released by Netflix simultaneously in 82 countries and a critically acclaimed and powerful appearance on Comedy Central's 'This is Not Happening'. A favourite at comedy festivals, Pete is one of only three Canadians ever nominated for an Edinburgh award at the Edinburgh Fringe, and has been invited to perform from South Africa to Australia to Singapore. Originally from Kelowna, Pete started performing in his teens, and developed his art from coast to coast in Canada making his first appearance at The Just For Laughs festival when he was only 24 and following that up with 6 more appearances at the festival over his 20 year career, including 4 galas taped for the CBC. Numerous other TV appearances fill his resume, from The Late Late Show on CBS, Premium Blend on Comedy Central, Friday Night on NBC, Russell Howard's Good News on BBC, The Best of the Fest on Channel 4, Live From the Comedy Store on Comedy Central, Russell Peters Red Light District on Showtime, 2 Episodes of 'The Debaters' TV show on CBC, one of which was nominated for a Canadian Comedy Award, and three Winnipeg Comedy festival Gala's. A relentless writer, and social critic you can always expect an engaging and intriguing show from this once in a lifetime comedian.

'Pete Johansson... is usually the smartest guy in the room. Any room. But he walks a fine line and never appears condescending. His mind works faster than most and it's amazing how quickly the words leave his mouth, especially when he's pressed for time. But that would be nothing if he wasn't funny. Thankfully, he is. He takes particular delight in goading an audience, too, but always delivers his punches with a gleeful giggle. And truth be told, he makes a pretty compelling case for randomly attacking children.' -The Georgia Straight

'This is the funniest first hour I have ever seen from a comic here in Edinburgh. Johansson is assured, relaxed, open and gently hilarious onstage. In fact, the rest of this review is just going to go on and on about how great he is so why not stop reading and go and get your ticket now... This is observational, anecdotal, autobiographical comedy at its best. His closing riff on engagement rings, intimacy and anal sex is one of the unmissable joys of this year's Fringe. Look, I'll give you my money-back guarantee. Now will you go and buy a ticket?' - Kate Copstick The Scotsman (UK)